

U.S. Businesses in Cuba Under Castro Threat

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro has threatened to confiscate all U.S. business interests in Cuba if the United States cuts the quota of Cuban sugar on which it pays $100 million a year.

The Cuban Prime Minister turned a proposal before Congress to give the U.S. President standby authority to cut the quota of Cuban sugar on which it pays $100 million a year.

"We will not remain impassive," he said. "We will know how to meet economic aggression."

"Speaking of the huge U.S. business interests in Cuba," Castro said, "In the same manner that they are there now, it may be in the future that they are not there."

American investments in Cuba before Castro came to power totaled about a billion dollars, but the revolutionary regime has taken over about a third of this, chiefly sugar and cattle lands.

Properties still in American hands include the 300-million-dollar Cuban Electric Co., the 115-million-dollar Cuban Telephone Co., banks, sugar mills, mines, oil refineries and various commercial enterprises.

Most businesses still in American hands have been curtailed by Castro's regime. American imports of half a billion dollars a year have been cut in half. The electric company's rates have been cut a third.

The government has refused to release more than 50 million dollars in foreign exchange to pay U.S. and British oil companies for Venezuelan oil they imported, refined and sold to the Cubans. Cuban "interventors" have been put in other American businesses with authority to overrule the American managers at any time.

Americans, particularly those working for sugar or cattle companies, have been arrested arbitrarily and harassed repeatedly. The United States is still buying about 3 1/2 million tons of sugar a year from Cuba, more than half the Cuban crop, and is paying a premium of about 2 cents above the world market price. Much of the rest of the Cuban crop is sold at a world price of about 3 cents a pound or a cent less than the cost of production.

Poultry Festival Gets Underway

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fifteen beautiful girls will parade through Little Rock and North Little Rock in convertibles today to open the Arkansas Poultry Festival.

The girls compete tomorrow night in the 1960 Poultry Princess contest.

The winner will represent Arkansas in the Miss Universe contest.

The sixteen Poultry Princess finalists were selected at regional festival contests in Decatur, Russellville, Batesville and Hope.

The winner will succeed Donna Sue Needham of Berryville.

Venezuelan President Escapes Bomb

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt was injured slightly by a bomb explosion today in an apparent assassination plot during an Army Day parade.

The bomb killed two presidential military aides.

Betancourt suffered a burned hand. He was taken to University City Clinic.

The bomb killed the head of the President's military household, Col. Ramon Armas Alfonso. Defense Minister Jose Lopez Ibanez and his wife were reported seriously injured.

Apparently an unidentified man hurled a high explosive bomb toward the President's car.

Betancourt, elected President in 1958 after overthrow of the Perez Jimenez dictatorship, rose from a sickbed to attend today's ceremonies.

The bombing occurred in the broad Avenida de los Proceres in the outskirts of Caracas.

Most businesses still in American hands have been curtailed by Castro's regime. American imports of half a billion dollars a year have been cut in half. The electric company's rates have been cut a third.

KOOL KARON — Karon Reed, 6, of Richardson, Texas, peers through a hole in a chunk of ice as she prepares to lick the ice. Karon was keeping cool while visiting in Austin, despite the 100 degree temperature reading.

REUNITED — Donald Hereford, 47, right, lights a cigar in Denver, Colorado, for William Watson Hereford, 71, Midland, Tex. said that in 1913 he put his wife and 1 year old son, Donald on a train after what he called a little spat. After a year he tried to locate them again and couldn't. An unrelated stranger named Frank Hereford finally brought the two together.

Rev. Mosher Takes Church at Marianna

Reverend and Mrs. Eddie Mosher and their young son, Craig, will leave Hope, June 30 when Mr. Mosher will become pastor of the First Assembly of God Church in Marianna, Ark.

Mr. Mosher has served as Music-Youth Director of the local Gospel Tabernacle for nearly two years. A successor has not yet been secured but it is expected that a replacement will be made in the very near future. The sermon in the Prayer meeting service next Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. will be delivered by Rev. Mosher. As a special token of appreciation for the work done by this couple, the church is planning a Farewell Social in the Fellowship Hall, Monday June 27 at 7:30 p. m.

Reds Mass Troops

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's chief of staff says reports indicate the Communist Chinese are massing heavy troop concentrations along some of India's border areas.

He said he felt there is little likelihood of trouble on the disputed border with Tibet as long as talks on the dispute continue with the Chinese.

The 30 paralytic cases, however, are considerably below the 61 for the comparable week in 1959 but above the same week in 1958.

Cost of Living Edges Up to Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in May, setting a new record for the third month in a row.

Reporting this today, the Labor Department announced its consumer price index reached 126.3 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Higher food prices were chiefly responsible for the rise.

As a result of the rise, about 200,000 workers in the aircraft, meatpacking, chemical, trucking and metal working industries will get cost-of-living pay boosts.

Their wage contracts have clauses providing for adjustments in relation to living costs.

For most of the workers, the pay increase will be one to two cents an hour.

Despite the slight rise in prices, the buying power of the average factory worker's paycheck rose slightly. Longer hours of work boosted his spendable earnings by 70 cents, or one per cent.

Nevertheless, buying power in May still was 2 per cent below that of a year ago.

'Trail Ride' Planned by Washington

A new feature of the Third Annual Fourth of July event in Washington, will be a "Trail Ride" originating at Arka Village, Emmet, and progressing through the DeAnn community to Washington, following one of the old routes through the country.

Participants in the Trail Ride will leave Arka Village at 1 p. m. on the Sunday preceding July 31, and it is estimated that the approximately 15 mile route will require about five hours including a stop-over at the De Ann Methodist Church where refreshments will be provided. Arriving in Washington Sunday at about 6 p. m., the riders will spend the night in Washington and participate in the parade Monday morning at 10. Ladies in the party will be accommodated in homes, but the men will camp out, according to Rev. D. L. McCauley, of Emmet, who will direct the ride. An entrance fee of $3 will be charged each rider, which will cover two meals at Washington, and feed for the horses night and morning. Accommodations for the horses will be provided in Washington by Joe Booker, who is in charge of the Parade Event on the Fourth.

The crossing of the Trail Ride over Highway 67 at Emmet will be directed by the State Police, who will also join the Ride again just before it reaches Washington.

Mr. McCauley says that all participating horses must be shod, as there is gravel all the way. He requests that riders who are interested in taking part in this ride contact him at Emmet or mail entrance fee to him there.

Arkansan Named to Bishopship

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Rev. Aubrey G. Walton, longtime minister of the First Methodist Church at Little Rock, Ark., was elected a bishop by the South Central Methodist Jurisdictional Conference here today.

Walton, 59, has been a minister since 1934. He was elected to the position by a vote of 100 to 0. He will succeed Bishop J. B. McCallum, who retired last year.

Herter Charges Red Leader Meddling in U.S. Internal Affairs

Says Russia Ready to Drop Disarms Talks

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin hinted today that the Soviet Union is ready to break off the 10-nation disarmament conference unless the Western powers agree to negotiate on the basis of the new Soviet plan for total disarmament.

Zorin's speech was part of a steadily mounting Communist buildup apparently intended to justify a break in the talks, at least until after a new administration takes office in Washington.

Zorin was less vitriolic than his colleague from Czechoslovakia Jiri Nosek, who earlier accused the United States of obstructing disarmament to conceal its own preparations for war.

The Soviet delegate charged that the United States deliberately sabotaged last month's Paris summit meeting and is not interested in any serious negotiation of a disarmament treaty.

Some Areas in Southwest Due for Rain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms and heavy rain that prowled the nation's midsection Thursday moved into the Southwest today.

At Corpus Christi, Tex., one storm dumped more than 2 inches of rain; Lubbock, Texas, reported wind gusts of 50 miles an hour at the height of a rain and thunderstorm.

The Chicago Weather Bureau blamed a cold front for the slope of unusual weather that hit central sections Wednesday and Thursday. The front extended from the Great Lakes into northwest Texas.

It produced: A tornado in Illinois that caused some damage to farm buildings, utility lines; killed seven persons, six of them in Kentucky; flash floods that forced many persons from their homes; flooded rivers; ruined crops; disrupted public services.

Warm air from the Pacific moved into the northwestern states early today, raising night-time temperatures up 15 degrees over the previous night's readings in Montana.

At the same time, cool air moving southward from the Plains States dropped temperatures 10 to 15 degrees from the previous night.

Greetings to Helen Keller

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday adopted a resolution extending greetings and best wishes to Helen Keller on the occasion of her 80th birthday on June 27.

Miss Keller, deaf and blind since infancy, has devoted her life to helping others similarly afflicted.

"To me, Helen Keller is the most remarkable person on earth," said Sen. Lister Hill (D-Ala.), who introduced the resolution.

Charges Suit Is Publicity Stunt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Air Line Pilots Assn. charged today that an Eastern Air Lines suit for $11,400,000 "is either a publicity stunt or a further attempt to harass the pilots."

The suit, filed in federal court Thursday, said the ALPA and some of its members threatened the 11-day strike and that strike leaders "threatened and intimidated and otherwise coerced" pilots who wanted to report for duty. The strike ended Wednesday.

Eastern said the ALPA, its president, Clarence Sayen, and Miami strike leaders worked in accordance with a pre-arranged plan and that the strikers acted with knowledge of a court injunction against a work stoppage.

His Yen Was Apparently Short-Lived

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Bohemian Bob, a plump, self-proclaimed headliner, tried to hole up Thursday night in his "The Yen of the Yang."

His "yen" was the window of a Milwaukee store that he had rented. His tenancy there, however, was short-lived.

Today he is in police custody in a hospital, nursing cuts on his hands and arms and facing a charge of disorderly conduct.

This is the story related by Milwaukee police.

Robert Schweda, 29, (Bohemian Bob), rented the store and painted numerous signs. He displayed them in the store window. They stated he wanted business as an author and a painter.

He also painted in one window signs in red letters reading "Help Beatnick Trapped." Even a square knows that it should be beatnick.

On one window he painted "The Yen of" and on the other window "The Yang."

Then he stood in one window and posed as "The Thinker," scowling at the several hundred persons who were attracted by the display.

The crowd finally drew police and they asked Schweda to come down from the window.

Instead he nailed shut both front and rear entrances and again took up his pose in the window.

Deputy Inspector Hans Krenn, after deciding that Schweda was causing a disturbance and creating a nuisance. He ordered his men to break in the door.

Officers started to break in the rear door. Schweda retaliated by throwing a hammer through a plate glass window.

He was subdued and handcuffed but not before he had grabbed the edge of the broken window. He was pulled out by about six officers.

Points to Talks of Successor to Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter accused Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today of interfering in this country's internal affairs by his talk about President Eisenhower's successor in the White House.

Khrushchev has several times attacked the Republican front-runner, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and has expressed hope he would find it possible to negotiate with the next administration.

Herter told a news conference that Khrushchev's remarks come about as close to interference in the internal affairs of another country as Herter can conceive of.

At the same time, he refused to be drawn into a discussion of whether the election of a Republican or Democrat as the next President would make any difference in future U.S.-Soviet relations.

Khrushchev's latest comment on the U.S. political scene came last Tuesday when he told a Romanian Communist party meeting he was interested in the election of a new president who would "remedy the mistakes made by the present government of the United States."

On other points, Herter told questioning reporters:

1. The United States government has every confidence that in spite of violent political disorders and the impending fall of the Kishi government Japan will continue to align itself with the West.

2. Herter has no intention what ever of remaining as secretary of state beyond the end of the Eisenhower administration.

He made that statement when asked whether he would be willing to stay on as secretary if Nixon is elected as Eisenhower's successor. Herter is 65 and suffers with a form of arthritis.

3. The United States intends to present new evidence against the Castro government of Cuba to the Inter-American Peace Committee. Herter indicated this action would be taken in August after the United States, under a rotation system, loses the chairmanship of the five-nation committee. Other officials report the evidence will be designed to show that Premier Fidel Castro has been trying to stir up strife in the Caribbean area.

4. U.S. alliances with other free world nations — notably NATO, CENTO in the Middle East and SEATO in southeast Asia — are stronger than ever in the aftermath of the U2 spy plane incident and collapse of the summit conference at Paris.

5. Deep-seated differences apparently exist between Russia and Peking over Communist ideological issues but it's hard to see if this makes any practical difference in their relationship.

6. The United States intends to make new moves in the East-West disarmament conference at Geneva, probably next week, but Herter declined to indicate what those moves will be because U.S.-Soviet consultations have not been held.

Negro Gang of Thieves Arrested

The self styled Rambo gang, a group of young Negro boys who were nothing more than petty shoplifters, came to the end of the Rainbow yesterday.

Hope City Police arrested seven Negro youths, the oldest 15, and another will be picked up today. The group had been operating over a year. Several would go into a store and scatter out, picking up whatever they could.

Practically every store in the city was hit at one time or another and many didn't even miss the stolen articles. Officers said.

Bible Comment

THE BOOK OF
HUMAN EXPERIENCE

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
The Bible is a vast and realistic book of human experience.

That is why the stories of what happened in family and tribal life many centuries before the Christian era have continued to have such interest and importance.

It is because its stories are timeless, and illustrate the actions and problems that continue to affect individuals and society.

Among such stories, that of Jacob and Esau seems in some respects far removed from modern life. Its setting is primitive, with its hunting, and its "mess of pottage," and its "birthright," so transferable and disposable; all of which fits in with the mother's ambition and trickery and household intrigue.

But it is precisely these things in their crudeness that continue today to be manifest, in ways that are as devious, if less crude.
The unbrotherly relations of Jew and Arab are as real as the conflict between Jacob and Esau.

And, in other relationships in life, estrangement and conflict are rife in many communities.

I remembered two brothers I once knew.

They would have nothing to do with each other. They were apart and in conflict as much as Jacob and Esau.

With my own home and boy-hood notions of what brothers ought to be I can recall how shocked I was that blood brothers could live from day to day in such enmity.

I don't know what had caused the dissension and separation between these brothers; but it is a situation which, if not typical, is not altogether uncommon.

And such situations of enmity are common among those whose daily contacts in business and society, and even common interests, ought to suggest cordial, if not brotherly, relationships. I suppose that personal ambition, the passion to get ahead, is one natural cause.

The fact is that despite the great propaganda of brotherhood, we live to a great extent in a most unbrotherly world.

What we need is not less propaganda of brotherhood, but more concentration on the occupations and cause of unbrotherliness.

And it is here that the Bible could be our greatest help. It teaches by its sad examples and warnings as much as by its exhortation and ideals.

Its ancient stories may change their form, but the essentials remain.

The warnings and teachings they imply need vastly greatened in a modern world Loomis,

Americans have visited, was "torn in a thousand pieces." The area destroyed by earthquakes is the size of New York State.
About 5,000 people are dead, a half-million homeless. The

GIANT MONUMENT PROPOSED FOR CAPITAL—Eric Gugler, left, the architect of the proposed Freedom Shrine, and Harry T. Thompson, superintendent of National Capital Parks, examine a model of the structure at Gugler's studio in Sneden's Landing, N.Y. The 24-million-dollar monument would be built on federal park land overlooking the Potomac River adjoining Arlington National Cemetery.

It is designed as a large open court, about 327 feet long, 204 feet wide and 68 feet high. Its walls feature reliefs and inscriptions recording the history of American democracy. If the project wins congressional approval, half the funds necessary would be appropriated by the government, the rest by public subscription. Some opposition to the structure, which has been described as "a tired cliché," is developing.

THE MOB, A POLITICAL WEAPON—Mobs, which have been called multiplied ignorance, become more and more an ominous symbol of the Cold War. The latest incident of mob violence was the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan. That came within two months of violent demonstrations which led to the fall of President Syngman Rhee of Korea and Premier Adnan Menderes of Turkey. Other mob actions in the last two years are noted on the Newsmap.

Trading on Market Is Very Active

NEW YORK (AP)—An ill-proven tone in key industrial stocks coupled with advances by an assortment of specialty-related issues gave the stock market a continued rise early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains of fractions to a point or better among pivotal issues bolstered the average despite an assortment of losers in various groups.

A miscellany of stocks affected by special news or recommendations were trading favorably, moving 3 or 4 points either way.

Olds Elevator was a star, adding more than 4 points to its 156 of 4 1/2 yesterday on word it would manufacture automatic phasing equipment for bowling.

Oil and steel improved as the session wore on. Ralls continued up on balance because of merger news. Chemicals, electrical equipments, and drugs moved generally higher.

International Business Machines hopped half a dozen points following published reports of its development of a new electronics technique.

Vending machine issues did well. Universal Match and Automatic Canteen gained about a point each while Vendo picked up more than 2.

New York Central advanced a fraction. Baltimore & Ohio was about unchanged and Chesapeake & Ohio eased as maneuvering continued in the proposed merger linking two, or all three, of these roads.

Texas showed continued strength, gaining more than a point and Jersey Standard was about a point higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 to 223.40 with the industrials up 1.20, the rails up .40 and the utilities up .30.

Corporate bonds advanced slightly. Trading was moderate. Government bonds eased in quiet dealings over the counter.

Standing in his stirrups, he yelled, "Hatchet! Hold up!" Buckner saw faces turn their way; he even saw the startled wife of those faces. He heard someone shout in a voice made high and girlish by astonishment, "My God! It's Lark!"

HARD PURSUED

BY NORMAN A. FOX

By NORMAN A. FOX

CHAPTER XXXV

Lark Ribby took another sip of water and then went on with his story:

"Duke's bullet creased the top of my head. Next thing I knew I was in bed upstairs. Sam was there looking at me, his face like a wolf's. He'd bandaged my head, pressed out and came to a half-dozen times. I hear sawing and hammering in the house—or maybe I dreamed it. Then I woke up to find myself chained down here with nobody home, and nobody within shouting reach."

"Sam brought you home unconscious," Buckner explained. "He must have told the crew you were dead and no sight to see. He built a coffin and filled it with straw, likely, packed in burlap to keep it from rattling. He nailed the coffin shut and everybody supposed you were in it. Tull wanted you dead. He'd been scheming with Spence, the deal being that if you died and Spence inherited, Sam would be half-owner here."

Ribby's face was wooden in the lamplight. "Spence crossed my mind while I was spending time here thinking. Sam wasn't sharp enough for that kind of scheming."

"Sharp enough to have learned from Spence, though," Buckner said. "Sharp enough to see that if he made you look dead out kept you alive a few days, he'd have Spence over a barrel if Spence tried reneging on that partnership deal."

"How do you know so much about this?" Ribby demanded. "Sam's dead, Lark. As it shapes up it had to be Spence who killed him, to dissolve the partnership. You see, Spence, thinking you dead and buried, had had the Hatchet crew on table Mountain chasing Duke Jordan. Last night Sam left their camp to go prowling. As I see it now, his prow would have brought him back here where he'd have given you some more food and water to keep you alive a bit longer. You were to have stayed alive till Sam could safely let go of his ace. Then Sam would have put you out of the way. As it happened, Spence might have done for you by starvation, when he put a bullet in Tull. That bullet could have been your finish, if someone hadn't come soon and found you."

"I'll be seeing Spence," Ribby said grimly.

"He'll be in Signal, Lark. Trying to drag Duke out of jail where McQueen put him tonight. Spence can't figure his little game finished till Duke dies for killing you."

"Then let's get riding," Ribby said.

They hit Signal near midnight, riding hard all the way, the three of them.

They had galloped hard across the last miles, through the broken country of rock and bluff and stunted trees, riding into the moon that lifted out of the east. And so they rode into Bottom Street.

The only splash of light fell from the Frontier, and the hitch-rail was lined with horses, most of them bearing the Hatchet brand; but as they went past, Buckner looked in and saw that the saloon was deserted. Lamp-light shone on bare table and empty chair and vacated bar. He saw a man slumped over a table, liquor and where Hatchet had gone.

He wondered if it was too late and looked on up the street toward the courthouse.

They still rode in full career. He saw Lark Ribby to his left, bent low over the horn, his hat brim flattened back, his face grim and white. Ribby was going on sheer nerve. Buckner turned his gaze to Pru, at his right, but he judged that she wouldn't be so inclined. She had been steadfast and so earned the right to see the finish, and he could only hope there would be no danger for her.

They had had no time for talking on this hard ride. He had got in a few more words with Lark while they had saddled in Hatchet's barn; he had sketched in the situation quickly for Lark, telling him what had happened on the mountain these last two days. They had no time for talking now.

They hit the courthouse corner and swung right and saw the dark mass of men on the side street like bees clustered on a branch, for they were carrying a length of telegraph pole, moving this ram toward the door leading into McQueen's office. The queer thing was their silence. Buckner shook his head, feeling as though he had gone deaf. No wild shout here, no noisy threats. Only the silent night and the chalky moonlight and the double line of men rushing that ram forward.

Until the gun spoke.

He recognized that throaty cough as coming from a rifle. McQueen or someone else inside

Arkansans Sizzle in Torrid Sun

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansans sizzled in a heat wave again today, but it wasn't quite as hot as yesterday.

The temperature surged to 100 degrees at Fort Smith yesterday. That was the highest reading in the state this year. Today's forecast called for 90 to 100-degree maximums.

At noon today, temperatures ranged from 83 at Walnut Ridge to 94 at Little Rock and Pine Bluff. It was 96 at Little Rock at noon yesterday.

Cloudy skies helped keep the reading down at Walnut Ridge.

Other mid-day readings included 88 at Fayetteville, 89 at Texarkana and El Dorado, 90 at Philip and 92 at Fort Smith. Memphis registered a 91.

Little Rock and Walnut Ridge were close behind Fort Smith yesterday with 90 readings.

Elsewhere in the state yesterday, maximums ranged from 83 to 98. There was no rain.

A cooperative research project established by the Arkansas State Hospital and the University of Arkansas Medical Center in the medical and mental problems of old age has been praised by medical authorities as the outstanding research project of its kind in the nation.

Older Worker Myth Concern Secretary

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Miss Bertha Adkins, undersecretary of the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said today she was concerned about the myths that have been built up about the older worker.

The official, who was featured speaker at a meeting of the Governor's Commission on Aging here, told an interviewer that theories about older workers' being slow were unfounded.

When Elected Your County Judge, I Will:

Orie O. Byers

1. Devote My Full Time to the Duties of The Office.
2. Advertise and take bids on all equipment and supplies purchased by the County.
3. Recommend and work for the employment of a Probation Officer to act under the supervision of the Judge of the Circuit Court, the Judge of the Probate Court, and the Juvenile Court and will seek the advice of the Hope Ministerial Alliance in dealing with all juvenile problems.
4. Publish quarterly, in your County newspaper, a complete itemized statement of all monies received and all monies paid out and to whom and for what it was paid.
5. Not act, or attempt to act, as the County Court of Hempstead County without doing so in compliance with the law. By that, I mean that on any matters that requires the action of the County Juvenile Court, I will convene Court, with the County Clerk acting as Clerk of said Court present, and all matters handled by me as the County Court or the Juvenile Court will be handled strictly according to law and a record will be made at the time of all such proceedings. To illustrate: If a taxpayer believes that his taxes are too high and he has filed a complaint with the Equalization Board and failed to obtain relief from said Board and appeals to the County Court, I will hear and determine such matters on the evidence, and according to the law and will not pass on such matters in any other manner.
6. The Federal Government buys farm produce and takes it off the market to aid in adjusting the farm prices for the benefit of the farmer. These surplus farm products are stored in warehouses over the county and the Federal Government makes it available to the needy people in every County in the United States. This food is distributed by and through the County Welfare Department, but the only agency that can bring said food to the County, to be distributed, is the County Judge. In other words if the County Judge fails to request said surplus food products and to cooperate with the Federal Government, the food products will not be available for the needy people of the County. I think this is a splendid plan and I endorse it, but I think it is applicable and that surplus food products should be available to the people who need it EACH AND EVERY YEAR. For some reason, better known to himself, the present County Judge has only cooperated with the Federal Government in distribution of said surplus food products during the years he was up for election and each odd numbered year, in which no County election was held, the people who were in need of this food and entitled to it have been denied, while the food products were stored in Government Warehouses not doing anyone any good, all because it was not Election Year. When I am elected your County Judge I assure you that I will request and use my efforts to see that said surplus food products are made available to the people of our County each and every year.

I sincerely solicit your vote for County Judge on July 26.

Saturday, June 25

The Veterans of World War I Barracks 553 will have a meeting at the Community Center at 2:00 in Washington, Saturday, June 25. All members are asked to be present.

Monday, June 27

The Night Circles of the W. M. U. will meet at 7:30 in the Educational Bldg. of the First Baptist Church Monday, June 27. The Kathleen Mallory Circle plans an interesting program on Brazil.

Ladies Bridge Luncheon

Held At Hope Country Club. Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone, Mrs. Harold Brents, and Mrs. C. E. Stuart, Jr., were hostesses at the Ladies Bridge Luncheon held at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, June 23. Pretty daisies, zinnias, gladioli and petunias were seen at vantage points in the clubhouse where a delicious potluck luncheon was served to 20 at noon.

In the afternoon bridge was played at four tables, and those winning prizes were Mrs. Lex Helms, Mrs. Derrell Jones of El Paso, Tex., and Mrs. Dick Moore. Club guests for the entertainment included Mrs. James of El Paso, Mrs. Floyd Ellis of Chelms, Tex., and Mrs. Ralph Emerson.

Tuesday Night Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. Homer Jones

Mrs. Homer Jones was hostess for a meeting of her Tuesday Night Bridge Club on June 21, and she had snapdragons, caladium leaves, and cape jasmine blossoms as house decorations.

After two tables of club members had enjoyed the evening, prizes were won by Mrs. Wayne Russell, Mrs. Floyd Leverell, and Mrs. J. M. Martindale. A tasty salad plate and coffee were served for refreshments.

Hope Jayceelles Meet In Community Room Of First National Bank

The Hope Jayceelles met on Tuesday night, June 21 in the Community Room of the First National Bank. The business was conducted by the president, Mrs. Don LaFantasie.

It was agreed for each of the club members to make a dress for herself by the same kind of pattern so that "look alike" frocks could be worn at such meetings as conventions. Plans were also made to conduct a Rummage Sale on the corner of S. Walnut and E. Division Streets on Saturday, June 25.

Decorated cake squares, nuts, and cold drinks were served to 14 by the hostesses, Mrs. Raymond Byers and Mrs. Fred Mathenia.

Coming and Going

Mrs. A. C. Kirby of Hope has been visiting her sister, and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McCarroll in Klamath Falls, Calif. She also visited other parts of Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Willett

A double-ring ceremony uniting Miss Cecila Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Godwin, and Jacky Willett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Willett, was performed on Sunday afternoon, June 12 at the First Baptist Church.

Dr. John McClanahan was the officiating minister when vows were exchanged before an after decorated with white gladioli and blue daisies. Miss Tonna Taylor sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Hendrix Spraggins, organist, who furnished the other nuptial music. Dressed in pink polished cotton with wristlets of white carnations, Misses Judy Beth Davis and Priscilla Johnston lighted the candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of chantilly lace and tulle over a white tulle skirt. The bride, enhanced by a beautiful collar, sparkled with iridescent sequins and seed pearls over a nylon tulle yoke. The long sleeves of chantilly lace were fastened with tiny pearl buttons and ended in lily points over the hands. The voluminous skirt of scalloped edged lace over tulle featured a pephum over tiers of white nylon chiffon ruffles. The fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Pearl earrings were the bride's only jewelry. Her bridal bouquet was centered with an orchid.

Miss Mary Gwen Allen is spending the weekend in Magnolia with her uncle and aunt, Elder and Mrs. Harry Atterberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland K. Buckner of Indianapolis, Ind., have been visiting the Leo Rays this week prior to the Ray-Buckner wedding on Saturday.

Mrs. Darrell Jones of El Paso, Tex., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cain.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart of Batesville, Miss., and Lt. and Mrs. Barry Stewart of Ft. Hood, Tex., spend last weekend in Hope with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. White and E. P. Stewart.

Mrs. T. R. Burson of Fulton and Mrs. O. B. Hodnett of Route 3, Hope, joined other district winners for the Chicken Cooking Queen at the state competition in Little Rock to be held Saturday.

Elder and Mrs. Ed Anderson of Houston, Tex., were Tuesday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Churchwell and family. Nellie Churchwell accompanied the Andersons home and is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Churchwell in Houston.

Miss Patricia Ann Valentine was the maid of honor for the bride. Her dress was of blue chiffon over matching taffeta. She had a bandeau hat of blue velvet with a blue nose veil and a bouquet of pink carnations.

Little Miss Lindajo Thomas was the flower girl for her cousin, and she wore a powder blue nylon dress with a pleated skirt and pastel spring flowers in her hair.

Master Glendon Martin, another Little cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer and carried a heart-shaped pillow of white satin. Vincent Willett of Commerce, Tex., served his brother as best man. Ushers were Denver Dickinson, Jr., cousin of the bride, and John Denton of Prescott.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Godwin chose a peacock blue silk linen dress with white accessories. Mrs. Willett, mother of the bridegroom, wore an ananel and cotton flowered print. Each had a gardenia corsage.

At the conclusion of the ceremony Miss Dorothy Ball had charge of the Bride's Book in the foyer of the church. Later a small reception was held in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bride's table was covered with white nylon lace over blue. It was centered with a bowl of Shasta daisies and gardenias, and the candelabra held blue tapers.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Misses Judy Beth Davis and Priscilla Johnston, while Mrs. Vincent Willett of Commerce, Tex., and Mrs. John Whiting of Memphis, Tenn., served the wedding cake.

Besides those already mentioned, other out-of-town guests were Capt. and Mrs. L. E. Thomas of Shreveport, La., John Whiting of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Millican of Little Rock.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride wore a beige embroidered linen dress with white and bone accessories. She pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder. The newlyweds will be at home in De Ann this summer, and both will enter East Texas State Teachers College in Commerce, Tex., this fall.

DOROTHY DIX

Past Repeats Self For Unhappy Wife

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

My mother died when I was 2. Leaving five children with a drunken father. His drinking left us little money for groceries. He beat us and wouldn't let us girls associate with men or women—saying friends would knife you in the back. All left home but I, the youngest. I went out a couple of times when I was 17. My father caught the boys, beat them terrible and just about killed me. The counselors at school were curious about my absence, so the police came and found me all bruised. My father was taken away from me and I went to live with a married sister. I married when I was 19, hoping to make a new life.

This man turned out to be just like my father. He drinks, beats me and calls me terrible names. Three months ago I fled for divorce. He threatened to take my life. We have three adorable children. I love them with all my heart and soul. They say I'm a wonderful mother and housekeeper. I tried to be a good wife and failed. My husband came back, saying he would change—just like my father—but he hasn't. He still drinks and says he's fallen in love with a wonderful girl—not me. I don't love him—even a little bit. Should I stick it out for the children's sake? Could they be happy when we're not happy? —J.R.

Dear J.R.: I approve of divorce only as a last resort. An unhappy home environment harms more than helps children. The spectacle of father beating mother is an ugly picture and will leave a psychological scar upon your children. Show this answer to your husband. Plead with him, for the sake of his family, to reform. Give him another chance. If he still lacks the moral stamina to pull himself together, get a separation.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: My 13th birthday will be soon. My mother says I can't have a party because she doesn't want strangers in our house. All my friends' parents let me come to their homes and are so kind. I am hurt. How can I make Mother realize what this means to me? —Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: I doubt if Mother has given her real reason for not wanting you to have a birthday party. Maybe she isn't well or hasn't the time or money. Ask her. Tell her you'll understand if she tells you the truth. In turn, ask her to understand you. Without understanding there can be no companionship between mother and child. You both should endeavor to alter this tragic situation. It can be done—with love. Show her this answer.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I had a happy marriage up to seven months ago when my wife and I separated. I don't know how to explain to her how I feel about this.

I do know that I'm not the only man who's made a mistake in life. I have tried every way I can think of to explain but it does no good. She still thinks I'm lying. I don't claim to be a saint but I did expect a wife to have supper ready when I got home from work. What should I do to make her feel the same about me? —I

Dear I: What was your mistake? Perhaps your wife is justified. The only way to undo whatever harm done is to prove by actions rather than words that you have reformed. Show that she is in your thoughts by sending her little gifts. Ask her for another chance—to relive those honeymoon days.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

MUNICH, Germany (AP) A former guard at the Dachau concentration camp was sentenced Wednesday to life imprisonment for bouncing a Jew to death in a steel basket.

The defendant was Wolfgang Seuss, 53.
The Munich District Court said he put Kurt Riesenfeld in a steel basket hooked to a crane, raised the basket seven feet and let it fall onto the pavement and repeated the process until Riesenfeld was dead.

Leading Yanks to Cleveland for Key Series

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees, back in familiar spot atop the American League, roll into Cleveland tonight for the opener of a four-game series with the third-place Indians—who at the moment are in better position than second-place Baltimore in the flag chase.

After their latest winning streak went out at six with a 2-1 loss at Detroit Thursday, the Yankees have only a half-game lead over Baltimore. But the Orioles, who defeated Chicago's White Sox 5-2 in 11 innings, are four games back in the decisive last column. Cleveland is only two back of New York in games lost after putting away a three-game sweep over Washington with a 7-6 victory.

Jim Coates (8-0), the lean right-hander who has won 12 straight since losing to the Indians in relief a year ago, is the Yankee probable. Right-hander Jim Perry (7-3) goes for Cleveland.

Boston won Thursday's lone night game in the AL, walloping Kansas City 13-4.

In the National League, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 and trimmed the Pirates' lead to 2½ games over second-place Milwaukee. The Braves defeated San Francisco 8-4 for their sixth straight. Los Angeles ended Cincinnati's winning streak at four, 6-2. Philadelphia escaped the cellar and dropped Chicago in with a 4-3 decision, the Cubs' seventh straight loss.

Charley Maxwell's leadoff home run in the ninth beat Yankee reliever Ryne Duren (2-2) and ended the Tigers' losing string at four. Don Mossi (4-5) won it, scattering nine hits.

The Orioles broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the 11th at Chicago, defeating reliever Gerry Staley (7-3) with a bases-loaded walk. Gene Stephens' sacrifice fly. Chuck Estrada (7-8) was the winner.

Cleveland gave Washington two unearned runs in a three-run first inning, then won in the eighth on Bob Allison's throwing error. Tex Clevenger (1-4) was the loser in relief, coming on when the Indians scored three and tied it 6-6 with two out in the seventh on Tito Francona's infield hit and Vic Power's single. Johnny Briggs (3-1) won it in relief.

Gary Geiger and Russ Nixon each drove in four runs for the Red Sox as each hit homers and went 3-for-5 in an 18-hit outburst. Dick Delock won his first in three decisions with his first complete game in a year. Ken Johnson (2-6) lost it.

Australian Leads Field of 16

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—First-seeded Warren Jaques of Australia and Lamar Tech at Beaumont, Tex., led a field of 16 into the third round of the Southwest Open Tennis tournament here today.

He was matched against Lou Siegel of Little Rock.

Seven others in the third round are from Lamar Tech and two are from Pan American College at Edinburg, Tex.

Aside from Siegel, only Arkansas survivors of the first two rounds of play at Little Rock Country Club were state champion Jay Freeman and Van Grant, both of Little Rock.

Both were matched in the third round against contenders from South Africa and Lamar Tech: Freeman against John Maloney; Grant against Tim Hoekler.

Star Building Sign Brought Up to Date

IT WAS ONLY A COUPLE OF YEARS AFTER THE STAR constructed its new building (1955) that the newspaper changed its logotype or title line, dropping the centerpiece showing the outline of the state map and substituting for it a drawing of a man working at a forge, with the legend: "Hempstead County—Home of the Bowie Knife."

AS THE OLD CENTERPIECE HAD BEEN INCORPORATED in the big electric sign on the newspaper building this also had to be changed — but we were several years getting around to it. This week the correction was made. W. W. (Bud) Sutton of Sutton Sign & Neon Co. made a sketch from the newspaper's present title line, had it turned into a porcelain panel in Dallas, Texas, and installed it in place of the old panel this week.

Phils, Braves Pirates All on 'Hot' Streaks

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Okay, so Pittsburgh has been hot and Milwaukee has been hotter, trailing the Phillies' National League lead to 2½ games. But have you noticed Philadelphia? The Phils, looking like a club shifted from a rookie league, have won five in a row and have sprung loose from the cellar.

Willie St. Louis beat the Pirates 3-1 with a pair of unearned runs Thursday night — after second place Milwaukee made it six straight with an 8-4 romp against San Francisco — the Phils plunked Chicago into the basement by handling the Cubs their seventh consecutive loss, 4-3.

The Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Cincinnati 6-2 in the other NL game.

In the American League, Detroit ended New York's latest winning streak at six with a 2-1 decision that trimmed the Yankees' lead to a half-game over second place Baltimore. The Orioles defeated Chicago's White Sox 5-3 in 11 innings, Cleveland beat Washington 7-0 for a three-game sweep, Boston walloped Kansas City 13-4.

The Phillies, who had been last since May 12, made it four in a row over the Cubs when rookie Ken Walters singled for a 3-3 tie in the sixth and then belted his seventh home run in the eighth. Walters and Frank Herrera, who hit his eighth home run in the second inning, each smacked three homers in the series. Dick Farrell (5-1) won it in relief of rookie Dallas Green.

The Cards were blanked on four hits for five innings by one-time nemesis Harvey Haddix (4-4), tied it one-all in the sixth and then made the most of a break for the unearned two in the seventh, Ron Kline (3-6) beat his ex-mates a second time, with Lindy McDaniel's relief help in the eighth.

Ed Matthews walloped a pair of two-run homers for the Braves, who collected six unearned runs on four errors while sweeping the four-game set with their ninth victory in 10 games. Both of Matthews' jolts, Nov. 15 were off Sam Jones (9-7).

The Giants managed seven hits off Warren Spahn (5-4), two of them homers by Ed Bressand and Bob Schmidt.

Dangerous right-hander Stan Williams (6-1) allowed six hits, but had a perfect game until the seventh, when Ed Kasko leg off with a double and scored on Gus Bell's single. Jim O'Toole (5-7) was the loser.

Flowers Gets Free to Play With L. A.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Charles Flowers, All-American football star formerly of the University of Mississippi, is free to play for the Los Angeles Chargers.

U.S. District Judge Claude Clayton yesterday ruled that the contract Flowers signed with the New York Giants of the National Football League was not binding.

Clayton said the one-time Ole Miss star was "young, inexperienced and, yes, a naive boy, preoccupied with retaining his family status and playing in the Sugar Bowl."

Flowers, of Marianna, Ark., admitted that he signed an agreement with the Giants Dec. 2 on the promise that if he later changed his mind he could break the contract.

When he told the Giants he had decided to play for the Chargers of the new American Football League, he said, the Giants told him the contract couldn't be broken.

giving Paris a face scrubbing, despite pleas by traditionalists that the dirt is part of the city's historical charm.

The aim is to clean the city's historical monuments and public buildings within five years.

Legionnaires Meet Indians Tonight at 8

Hope's Legionnaires will be strengthened tonight at Legion field at 8 o'clock when they meet the Wake Village Indians of Texarkana. This is the first district game.

Marty Filogamo and Edsel Nix will be back and Nix will do the hurling while Filogamo takes over center field.

In play last night at Fouke the Hornets used home runs to romp over the Legionnaires 16 to 6. Monty Combs hit one over the fence with one aboard; Bobby Clements of Fouke slammed two homers, the first with two on and the second with none on.

No season passes will be good for the district games.

Colleges in State Borrow for Housing

Arkansans in Washington By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the 10 years that the federal housing program for colleges has been in operation, Arkansas colleges have borrowed about 17½ million dollars from the government to build student housing and other facilities.

In addition, applications are pending from Arkansas schools for loans totaling an additional 6½ million dollars.

This program was set up in 1950. It permits colleges and universities to borrow federal funds at low interest rates, currently 3 per cent, for their building needs. Loans are repayable over 40 years.

A new omnibus housing bill recently passed by the Senate included authorization for an additional 500 million dollars for this program.

It was during debate of this bill that Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) placed in the Congressional Record a list of loans granted and applications pending.

Arkansas loans granted include:

Quachita Baptist college $75,000, housing; State A.M. & N. School, $581,000, housing; Henderson State Teachers College, $347,000, housing; Hendrix College, $265,000, housing; Quachita Baptist College, $294,000, housing; University of Arkansas, $2,917,000, housing and dining facility; Hendrix College, $325,000, housing; Arkansas State Teachers College, $350,000, student center; Henderson State Teachers College, $252,000, student union; University of Arkansas, medical school, $2,316,000, housing.

Arkansas State College, $377,000, housing; Harding College, $500,000, housing; Arkansas State Teachers College, $395,000, housing; Arkansas Polytechnic College, $350,000, housing, student union and dining facility; Little Rock University, $322,000, student union and dining facility; Quachita Baptist College, $200,000, dining hall; Philander Smith College, $800,000, housing, student union and dining facility.

Fumes Sicken 9 Ft. Smith Firemen

FORTT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Nine firemen were sickened yesterday by fumes, apparently from some sort of acid, while fighting a fire in a plant which makes small electrical appliances.

Some 500 employees fled before flames swept through the Landers Products plant.

Only two of the firemen were hospitalized.

The firemen said they suffered "burning sensations" and stomach pains from the fumes.

Fire Chief R. L. Rudd said the cause of the fire, which began in a room where appliances are buffed, was not known.

The fire was controlled in about an hour.

The hospitalized firemen, Luther Bevel and Jack Glass, were reported in satisfactory condition today.

Company officials declined to estimate monetary losses. There was no announcement of how long plant operations would be suspended.

University of Arkansas $878,000, housing.

Arkansas Polytechnic College, 285,000 and $350,000, housing; John Brown University, $400,000, housing; Arkansas Agricultural and Mechanical College, $925,000, housing; Quachita Baptist College, $250,000, housing; Arkansas State Teachers College, $750,000, housing; Henderson State Teachers College, $1,136,000, housing; University of Arkansas, $1,672,000, housing.

Most of the housing involved dormitories for men or women students although some student family dwellings and some housing for faculty members also are included.

In addition, four Arkansas schools have applications pending:

Arkansas State College $1,500,000; Arkansas Polytechnic College, $669,527; Arkansas State College, $1,200,000; Agricultural, Mechanical and Normal College $2,991,000.

Arkansans presided over House debates the better part of three days recently.

Rep. James Trimble was called on to preside over the Committee of the Whole House during debate on a resolution—which was adopted—proposing a constitutional amendment under which the District of Columbia might vote for president.

Rep. Wilbur Mills presided for two days during the rough and tumble debate on the foreign aid appropriations bill.

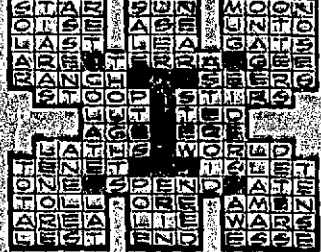

The speaker never presides in the House when it goes into committee of the whole to debate a bill. Instead he calls on some experienced member to preside. Usually this chore involves keeping order, keeping track of the time, and the like but occasionally the chairman is called on to decide some knotty point of order.

Both Mills and Trimble have presided over such debates previously.

Political Facts Up to This Point

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the national convention less than two and a half weeks away, the political cauldron has come to a rolling boil. Some of the bubbles that came to the surface Thursday:

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, front runner for the Democratic prize, snared his largest single bloc of convention votes so far when 91 1/2 of New York's 114 were pledged to him. Backers of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas figured Kennedy will have over 600 votes when the convention starts July 11, but said their man would have 602 and claimed his total would swell in later ballots unless Kennedy manages to sweep the board on the first ballot; 761 convention votes are needed to nominate.

President Eisenhower, "golfing in Hawaii" after his Far East trip, was reported drafting a reply to mounting Democratic criticism of his foreign policy, particularly the consequences of the cancellation of his visit to Japan.

Eisenhower talked by phone with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the GOP's prospective nominee, for the first time since leaving on his trip.

Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty said the President "is somewhat puzzled and amused that some of these same gentlemen were saying before the trip it would be a catastrophe if he didn't go to Japan." Hagerty didn't say which Democrats he meant.

Kennedy's New York strength brought his unofficial total of votes to 484, according to an Associated Press tabulation. His camp claims he will go into the convention with more than 600; the AP tabulation counts votes determined by state primaries, state convention action and polls of individual delegates willing to announce their stand.

Johnson's total in the AP list now is 202 1/2. He got 2 1/2 votes from the New York delegation meeting at Albany, N. Y.

At Trenton, N. J., Robert J. Burkhardt, a close political advisor to Gov. Robert B. Meyner, said he thinks the state's 41-vote delegation should switch to Kennedy now. It presently is pledged to Meyner as a favorite son.

Grandmother Awaits Birth of Quads

MEMPHIS (AP) — A 38-year-old grandmother is in the Naval Hospital here awaiting the birth of quadruplets, the Navy said.

A spokesman said Mrs. Minnie Laura Box, wife of an airman, was expecting around Aug. 21 but was hospitalized early when x-rays confirmed the multiple birth.

Mrs. Box and her 40-year-old husband, chief aviation technician Thomas A. Box, already are parents of four children, 20 years to 20 months old. They have been married 22 years.

Quadruplets occur only once in about every one million confinements.

The prospects of four more children may force Box to change plans. He said he had hoped to retire from the Navy and enter the ministry in 1964. Now he doesn't know.

11 Die in Fire

LIVERPOOL, England (AP) — Firemen and police today began searching the smoking ruins of a five-story department store in which at least 11 persons died.

A dozen persons were injured. Liverpool's worst fire since the 1940 Nazi blitz swept through the crowded store in mid-afternoon Wednesday.

An engineer working on a renovation project fell to his death from a finger-tip hold on a top floor ledge after helping five girls to safety.

About 400 customers and 300 employees were in the store when smoke started pouring through ventilators. Within minutes the whole building was in flames.

Weather Fails to Break Up Politics

DAYTONVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A battery of politicians fought a luring battle with Mother Nature here last night and the hardy spectators who were around at the finish probably would say the politicians won.

The candidates for office, including the four men trying to unseat Gov. Orval E. Faubus, withstood a power failure and a thunderstorm which scattered most of the crowd.

"Just call it the hard-luck rally," said Charles Honey, president of guests. A Faubus aide, J. Orville Young Democrats, who staged the event. Honey, a Washington County Deputy Sheriff, estimated the crowd at 1,500 but said over 1,200 left when the thunderstorm cut short the speech of Joe C. Hardin, one of the candidates for governor.

Hardin, Bruce Bennett and H.E. Williams attacked the Faubus administration with their usual gusto. A Faubus aide, J. Orville Cheney, represented the absent governor and listed accomplishments of the administration. "Is this what they want to abolish?" asked Cheney, who resigned as State revenue commissioner to take a hand in Faubus' fourth term bid.

Hal Millsap Jr., the fifth candidate in the governor's race, said Arkansas has the "sorriest roads and sorriest school system" and added that if he is elected he will run the state on a businesslike basis.

City and county candidates and some of the state hopefuls had to speak in growing darkness because of a power failure. Millsap brought out a portable public address system from his touring bus until the electrical system could be repaired.

The lights came on amid thunder and lightning and when the gubernatorial candidates took the platform, the storm hit.

After the downpour, Cheney Millsap and Williams spoke inside a pavilion to the remaining spectators.

Bennett, one of the candidates who spoke between the light failure and the storm, renewed his accusation that the Faubus administration had practiced tax favor-

PREDICTED LOG CONTESTS FOR FAST AND SLOW BOATS

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)
A boat race in which no one tries to finish first is becoming popular.

The skippers involved don't even like to refer to it as a race. It's a contest, but may the best boatman win.

Speed is not essential. Comfortable power cruisers can take part and the whole family can come along. Races are official and sanctioned and supervised by the American Power Boat Association.

A course is laid out around a lake, river, bay or along a coast with check points along the way. The skipper must record in a log book and announce in advance just when he will pass each of these points. That's how the event gets its name, a predicted log contest.

A skipper may plan to reach the mid-bay lighthouse in 37 minutes, turn at a navigation buoy just an hour later, and cross the lake and an observer is stationed aboard.

The skipper must know how his boat operates at various throttle settings—and more.

If a wind is behind or ahead of the boat, if a tide is ebbing along the coast, or if a strong river current cuts across the bay—this the skipper must predict in advance or allow for on the spot and know how much his running time will be effected.

These are the skills that would help him get home safely in a fog or at night when he needs to estimate exactly when the harbor breakwater will appear.

But as M. L. (Mike) Hersey, cruiser racing commission expert, points out, this is a contest that can be a lot of fun. The boatman's family may take part. The skipper can travel as slowly as he wishes just so he hits each check point according to schedule and finishes the race on the required minute.

Boats may start hours apart but are supposed to finish together. The excitement heightens as the fleet crowds up approaching the finish line with some boats seemingly to be going too fast and others too slowly.

The winner is determined by how nearly he passed his check points at the time predicted. The excitement heightens as the fleet crowds up approaching the finish line with some boats seemingly to be going too fast and others too slowly.

New Seats and Carpeting at the Saenger

Williams said "Faubusism" is ruining America's reputation. Hardin struck at loss of population and lack of industrial development.

Millsap, speaking of a four million dollar receivership suit filed against him, said "If they sue for 40 million dollars they'll not still my voice and my story."

One of the most vocal critics on the platform was Leroy Hickman of Little Rock, a candidate for lieutenant governor. He called the state administration "a political ulcer that has developed into a malignant growth."

"We need men who the lust of office won't corrupt, men who won't lie, men who won't steal," said Hickman. His opponent is incumbent Nathan Gordon of Morrilton.

H. E. Williams said the doors of the word are being closed to America and Faubus has "had more to do with this" than any other man in the nation.

"Khrushchev couldn't have thought up a better propaganda weapon than the reputation and in-juries through Faubus," Williams said.

Cheney said the Faubus administration brought about improvements in educational facilities, teachers' salaries, state institutions and the welfare program and formed the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

U.N. Backs Argentina's Contention

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council has endorsed Argentina's contention that the capture of Adolf Eichmann by Israeli agents violated Argentine sovereignty. But Israel still has Eichmann and obviously is going to keep him for trial.

The council late Thursday adopted an Argentine resolution criticizing the Nazi official's secret transfer from Buenos Aires to Israel and calling on Israel to "make appropriate reparation."

The mild, vague resolution did not ask for Eichmann's return to Argentina, as Argentina had demanded earlier. And Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion already had said flatly Eichmann would stay in Israel to stand trial on charges that, as chief of the Gestapo's Jewish section, he supervised the extermination of six million European Jews in World War II.

In Buenos Aires, the foreign minister secretary, Miguel Angel Cordero, said his government might consider an apology from Israel sufficient reparation. Reports circulated in Paris that Argentine President Arturo Frondizi might close

Negro Gunmen Hold Up Store

MEMPHIS (AP) — Two Negro gunmen held up liquor stores five miles apart within 25 minutes last night and escaped with a total of nearly $4,000 in cash.

Abe Simkin, owner of Standard Liquor Store, was the first victim. He said two men wearing woman's hats walked into his store, pointed pistols and looted a cashbox of $800 in cash.

Shortly afterward, Morris Hoffmann told police he was held up at his store by two men firing the same description. Hoffmann said they took about $3,000 in cash and $2,000 in checks from two cash-registers and a safe. Both men said they were bound by the holdup men.

Faubus to Open With TV Talk

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that he would immediately follow up a television-radio campaign opener with the start of a stamping tour in his try for a fourth term.

And Joe C. Hardin joined Faubus and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett among the candidates scheduling "aired" opening speeches.

Says Reds to Await U. S. Elections

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials believe the Soviet Union may soon try to suspend disarmament negotiations at Geneva "on the grounds that progress toward agreement is impossible until after a change of administrations in Washington."

Authorities said the Soviet government probably is reluctant to make definite break-off move for time, but two developments indicate they are maneuvering in that direction.

In the 10-nation disarmament conference, Communists spokesmen at recent sessions have accused the United States and other Western powers of stalling and of failing to display any interest in real progress toward agreement.

For their part they have insisted that the West accept Soviet proposals as a basis for negotiation, and so far have rejected all efforts to draw them into detailed discussions even on their own plan.

In connection with the three-power negotiations for a treaty prohibiting nuclear weapons tests, the Soviet Union recently sounded out the United States informally about shelving the conference until after the November presidential elections in this country.

A Soviet diplomat at Geneva is understood to have suggested to a U. S. diplomat that no progress was possible so long as President Eisenhower remains in office. The United States rebuffed the Soviet approach about a long recess but authorities here considered it significant.

Suspension of the conference would be in line with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's campaign to discredit President Eisenhower as an effective U. S. leader in the search for peace.

Officials said the United States and its allies have no intention of agreeing to a long recess in either conference.

They are not sure how matters will develop in the nuclear test negotiations during the next few weeks but are pessimistic about any real progress. They expect little accomplishment even though the belief still prevails in official quarters that in the long run Khrushchev wants a nuclear test ban.

Faubus said he would spend at Batesville at 10 a.m. on July 2, go the same day to Searcy and Judson and return to Batesville at night to crown the winner of the White River Water Carnival.

Monday, July 4, he will speak at Clarendon, Portia, Piggott and Corning, where holiday celebrations will be held.
